BOY A SUICIDE

Left Germantown Home—Found Dead in Hotel.

F. Raymond Johnson, the 17-year-old school boy, who disappeared on Thursday of last week from his home, 79 East Brimstreet, Germantown, committed suicide in a room in the Hotel Bennett, 151 North Ninth street, early yesterday.

The boy was evidently the victim of brooding over the supposed indifference of a girl he loved. The girl is Gertrude Johnson, 17 years old, of 4125 Bayview street. She works in a confectionary shop in Germantown, just below Chelten avenue.

Young Johnson left his home on Thursday afternoon, ostensibly to pay a bill for his uncle and to return a book to the Germantown Free Library. The boy's uncle gave him $30 with which to settle an account at a nearby store. Thirteen dollars of the amount was found in Raymond's pockets. He went neither to the store nor to the library.

On Friday night the uncle found the book—Stevenson's "Master of Ballantrae"—on the grass in the rear of the Johnson home.

BECAUSE

Doctors & Hospitals

failed to CURE you is NOT PROOF

that you are incurable

Mrs. Elizabeth Schaefer, of McKean street, Phila., Pa., writes: "I had a pain in my left side for about seven years. I was told by the doctors that I had renal trouble. They also took an x-ray picture of me, and said that I had enlarged blood vessels around my heart. I had been treated by a number of doctors and at three hospitals, but could get no relief. I have undergone two operations, and was expecting to be operated on for the third time at one of the hospitals in Philadelphia, where all operations had been done for me. I began to give up hope of ever getting well when one of your booklets came to my hand as a God-sent trial, which I read and decided to go to the hospital. I commenced to use it, and felt some relief on the second day. I continued the use of MAT-URON'S NUTLEY (tablets), which has the side pain around the heart and all my ailments were cured. I feel like a new man. I thank you for what your NUTLEY has done for me."

"You are at liberty to publish my letter if you desire."

"Very truly yours,"

"Mrs. Elizabeth Schaefer."

What MATURON'S NUTLEY (tablets) do for you if you suffer from Rheumatism, Vertigo, Constipation, Piles or any Kidney, Liver, Bladder, Blood or Stomach trouble. It purifies the blood and regulates the way the blood and organs will work, and the sufferer and his sufferings will end.

MATURON'S NUTLEY (tablets) is sold and recommended by Walter Rott, the well-known druggist of Hatboro, Pa., and by all reputable druggists; also for sale (or by mail) at the Hatboro Laboratory, 112 Columbia avenue, Philadelphia.

Proctor vs. the Lehigh Valley Transit Company, Judge Weand practically decided the long-standing question that where a man is a passenger in either a public or private vehicle driven by another, and when an accident happens in connection with an electric car or steam train, the man injured is not guilty of contributory negligence, and can recover damages, even though it be shown that the driver of the vehicle was guilty of contributory negligence.

In the case of Proctor vs. the Lehigh Valley Transit Company, the man injured is not guilty of contributory negligence, and can recover damages, even though it be shown that the driver of the vehicle was guilty of contributory negligence.

WILL PAY SCHOOLS JULY 1

School Code Changes Time for Distributing Appropriations.

Pennsylvania's new school code provides that the payments from the appropriation for the support of the school system of the State will not begin until the first Monday of July. The first Monday of June, which, for years, has been the time for opening new books for the distribution of school supplies, will be the time for the distribution of the school year should begin the first Monday of July in order to facilitate financial arrangements as the State appropriation is paid to reimburse districts for the amount of the school year.

In one-half of the State, the school year is paid on the first Monday of July. In the other half, the school year is paid on the first Monday of June. The new code provides for a new basis of distribution of the appropriation, one-half to be paid on the first Monday of July and one-half on the first Monday of June.

AMBLER

The Wasehick Fire Company will hold a festival on June 23. This has been a big week for the small boy, a circus came to town on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Heiss have taken a cottage at Wildwood, N. J., for the summer.

Mrs. J. P. Brenner, who recently underwent an operation in Chestnut Hill hospital, is recovering satisfactorily.

Harry Anson, of Milwaukee, is spending a few weeks here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Anson.

Rev. Charles Wadsworth, Jr., D. D., will preach the baccalaureate sermon to Ambler public school graduates, and the annual address will be delivered by Dr. Cheesman Herrick, president of Girard college, Philadelphia.

The Presbyterian church property is being greatly improved. The bank along Ridge avenue has been graded and some of the trees were necessarily removed. The iron fence in front was taken away, and the lawn and terrace have been nicely mowed.

At Monday evening's meeting of the Ambler School Board, A. R. Gilbert of Millinburg, was elected Supervising Principal of the schools of that borough. He succeeds Prof. W. H. Bain, who has been principal for the past few years and has resigned. Prof. Gilbert was chosen from a list of fourteen applicants for the position. He comes highly recommended.

There was a contest for chief of the Wasehick Fire Company, of Ambler, Friday evening. Chief Arthur R. Hayden had as his opponent Frank Craft. The vote resulted in 47 for Hayden and 9 for Craft. Other officers elected were: President, J. Watson Craft; vice president, Harold G. Knight. A committee, consisting of William Irwin, A. R. Hayden, W. J. Devine, Fred Gilbert and Jesse Davis, was appointed to make arrangements for the unveiling of the two cannon which the Government donated, and which will be placed on the company's lot. The unveiling ceremonies will take place on July 4th.

Three Tuns-Maple Glen

Mrs. Walter Graham, of Philadelphia, spent this week at Edwin W. Simmer.

On Wednesday evening, May 31, Miss Gertrude K. Conrad attended the commencement exercises at the Upper Merion schools at Woodhill chapel, Bucks county, where her niece, Miss Margaret Z. Conrad, gave the salutatory. The class contained eleven, ten girls and one boy.

USE TWO MORE TRACKS

Reading Elevated in Philadelphia Put a Track System into Service.

Beginning last Sunday the Philadelphia and Reading Railway completed and put to use its four-track elevated system through the Tioga section, thus giving continuous four-track service between Wayne Junction, Sixteenth street and Indiana avenue.

Ever since the elevation of the tracks began this important stretch of roadway has had only two tracks in operation at a time, which considerably handicapped the dispatchers and rendered necessary a rather irregular schedule and some slight delays.

Of this will be immediately obviated by the return to the four tracks.

The only section of the new elevation which is not now completed with four tracks is that below Montgomery avenue, and here the work is being rushed rapidly to completion.

TREVOSE

Rev. and Mrs. Jeremiah Brändroth were in Hahora, Saturday and Sunday, visiting their son, William.

Robert Barton, of Meadowbrook, has chartered his motor boat upon the Delaware, near Weston, instead of on the Neesham in as former years.

"Squire and Mrs. Charles A. Dunk were at Poplar Park, Neesham, one day this week. They have recently had extensive alterations made within their spacious home.

Trevose won from the strong Kehoe P. C. on June 4. Score 5 to 2. Terry pitched a splendid game, and Lingerman had seven difficult plays at short without an error. The batting of Vansant was one of the principal features. This was the fifth consecutive game won by our boys. A five dollar gold piece was tossed into the hat. The management hopes that it was not an error by some fan who thought that among his other coins, it was a new penny. June eighteenth, (18th), Bustleton will try us out.

The ice cream and strawberry festival, in the interests of the attendants at the M. E. church, held in the grove on Tuesday night, was fairly patronized. A number of country people, however, were kept at home on account of the inclement weather.

The writer has a three-year-old hen which sat continuously for one hundred and five days and hatched five broods of healthy chickens. "Hot Toad," a very tame bird, finished her long task in perfect health. She is of particular breed, but very intelligent and talkative, in her way, and fond of being handled.

In the science which treats of the structure of plants, the functions of their parts, their growth, their classification, and the terms which are employed in their description and denomination, Martin Bloomer, formerly head gardener of Lord Howe, of Dublin, was master. And Flora is the lovely queen at whose shrine he worshipped, he having charge of the grounds and green houses of the asylum for insane who in he was one of the patients. Lastly he mentioned his charges in the Latin tongue, but upon most other subjects he was "out of his head." As an exception, however, one remarkable incident occurred some years subsequent to the murder of President Garfield. Speaking of that lamented man, Martin said to me one day: "Too soon was he biographical to render such narrative of an always adult life, other than a perfunctory superficial recapitulation. Will you kindly permit me to recall the facts to recollection. Bora of western world founders - For the moment I seemed unable to grasp the fact that he was speaking sanely and seriously; and, and I, in jesting mood: "Excuse me, I must stay to the 'Big House' but as I strode toward the main building of that institution I thought it over and came to the conclusion that Martin was right."

Artsdalen.

Miss Minnie Donahower and her two nieces, Marie and Gertrude Keyser, were callers at Mr. and Mrs.
Percy VanArtsdalen's at Jamison, on Tuesday.

JOHN S. LEIDY,
local editor of the SPIRIT, is calling upon our subscribers, who are not able to reach our office.

When he comes to see you give him the glad hand pay up cheerfully, tell him an item of news, and receive the change.

Yours truly,
The Robinson Publishing Co.

A little fellow with a toy pistol stepped upon the track of the Newtown trolley road and aimed at the first car that approached. The conductor had no other way than to stop, alight from the car and carry the little "desperado" aside, with a warning "never to do that trick again."

At the meeting of borough council on Monday evening it was decided that the speed limit for motorists should be 15 miles per hour in the central portion of the borough and 22 miles per hour in the outskirts. There has been very little complaint of over-speeding since the officer has been kept in uniform on the street.

Walter B. Cromley, who is now located at Coatesville, Pa., and Miss Anna B. Rowe, of Lancaster, Pa., were married at the M. E. parsonage, Fox Chase, on Thursday, June 1st, by Rev. Edward Cilse. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Cromley of this borough, and holds a responsible position with Worth Brothers at Coatesville. The bride is a leading young lady of Lancaster. They will reside at Coatesville.

Dr. Charles Seltzer has purchased a well-bred handsome imported Percheron stallion "The Guide," which will stand for service at Spring Brook Farms, Hatboro. This is the kind of horse farmers should breed. Their mares to as heavy work horses are in great demand at high prices. One horse farms a colt or two can be raised without noticeable expense to the farmer. In this market heavy draft horses sell readily at good figures, and can be turned into money at any time.

E. N. Lady, of Glenaside, has rented the store and dwelling adjoining Walton's store and will open about the 15th of the month a plumbing and heating establishment. Mr. Lady comes very well recommended as a first-class workman with considerable experience in his line of business, including the placing of steam and hot water heat. It is his intention to conduct an up-to-date plumbing. Mr. Lady feels much encouraged as he has received contract to do the heating in the addition to Moore's hotel. It will require the boilers to be enlarged and the adding of many radiators.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Children's day was observed in the Baptist church last Sunday evening. A very large audience was in attendance, every seat being taken. The funeral services were held on Friday afternoon at the Montgomery cemetery chapel, Norristown. He was a member of Norris Lodge of Odd Fellows, and the Campbranch branch of the same order.

A person to whom taking infinite pains is nothing says: An effective method of ridding a lawn of dandelions is to go over the yard and put a drop of sulphuric acid from a medicine dropper into the heart of each dandelion plant, being careful not to touch the surrounding grass with it. One drop will be sufficient to cause the death of the roots of a small plant, but large plants of old growth may need a second application. If a lawn watched carefully for a season or two and the sulphuric acid applied to all new plants, you may soon rejoice in a dandelionless lawn. Use caution in handling the sulphuric acid, and do not let it touch your skin.

The crack degree team of Peace and Love Lodge of Odd Fellows of Jenkintown, conferred the first degree of Friendship upon a candidate in the lodge room of Loller Lodge on last Tuesday evening, in a very satisfactory manner. The followers of the "three links" were out in large numbers, lodges being represented from Eagle, Henderson, Jenkintown, Doylestown and elsewhere. Such good work is seldom witnessed in the suburban districts. An elegant luncheon was partaken of after the lodge session.

After many years of faithful service as outside guard, Charles L. Loller released his position, owing to old age. He is one of the oldest members of Loller Lodge.

A Welcome Change

Smoke curling up from the farmhouse chimney as the men are coming in from the fields, gives a pretty suggestion of a good supper and a comfortable home. But it also means a hot, tired woman, working hard over a blazing fire.

Your wife can escape this with a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

A New Perfection keeps a kitchen many degrees cooler than any other range, yet it does all a coal or wood range can do. It saves time, labor and fuel. No wood to cut; no coal to carry; no ashes; no soot. With the New Perfection oven it is the best cooking device you can find anywhere.

New Perfection
Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, hinged top, enclosed chamber, heat promptly isolated throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is lined with drop shelves, level inside.

The half inch of mud covering the pike this week made one think what a great benefit to our village sidewalks would be. It might be possible that the mud could be scraped or washed from the pike; it might be the deepest from the railroad to Cherry street.

The rainy weather Monday and Tuesday night kept people away from the Park. Monday night when the concert began there were not twenty people under the pavilion and some fifty had assembled at the time the concert closed at 8.45. The cold easterly winds made it very unpleasant for anyone to sit outdoors. The attendance since the opening of the season is considerably encouraged in its effort to make this a banner season.

Moreland township supervisors are cutting off the top of the hill on Moreland road, west of the Park, and are using the material to fill in the valley below. While this work is in progress the road is hardly fit for travel. One night recently a large auto mobile became fast in the soft earth and was abandoned until next day when it was extricated by men with shovels and ropes. When the grad it is finished it is the intention to have the road macadamized from the edge of the Park, westward to Goeckner's corner.

Recently the Willow Grove Improvement Association started an effort to have a concrete pavement laid along the Davisville road from York road to the residence of Floyd Miller, a quarter of a mile. When surveys were made, it was found that the road as laid out now is not in the center of the right of way. The discovery of this fact has caused a delay in finishing the resurfacing of this road which had been started by the Township Supervisors. The crushed stone has been placed upon the road for considerable distance and part of the Cut-off railroad is in the condition. When this road is finished and a substantial walk is laid along side of it a great improvement will have been accomplished for that section of the Willow Grove. A side walk through the Grove along York road is badly needed especially at this season of the year, when the street is crowded with automobiles, wagons and pedestrians. It is a great wonder some one is not badly injured or killed.

Rev. Dr. E. T. H. Mow, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, of Reading, has accepted the call to the professorship at the Mt. Airy Lutheran Seminary and will enter upon his new duties on September 1.

CONDUCTOR KNOCKED BY CAR

Long was putting the car chains up and apparently did not see the other car coming toward him.

He was taken to the Welsh Hospital in a passing automobile, where it was found that his leg was broken and that he had contusions of the body and left leg. He will recover.

VALLEY FORGE FUND TO BE KEPT

Court's Auditor Recommends Proceeds of Fund Should be Applied as Herebefore.

William F. Dannewer, as auditor, has submitted to the Montgomery county court his report on the distribution of the fund received for the sale of the Washington's headquarters at Valley Forge. This fund, amounting to $15,505.50, composed the assets of the Continental and Memorial Association of Valley Forge, organized some years ago to preserve the headquarters, and had been dissolved.

The claimants for the fund were the Order Sons of America, which held 3,600 shares of stock; the Valley Forge Park Commission; Valley Forge Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution; the Rev. W. H. Burk, as a stockholder for Washington Memorial chapel, and H. J. Stager, as trustee for Sons of America Camps.

The court, in its decision, held that the fund should be distributed to the Valley Forge Park Commission, provided the members are appointed by the court as trustees. Otherwise, the award is to be made to such person, corporation or body as the Court may appoint trustees.

In making this recommendation the auditor holds that the property of the Continental and Memorial Association of Valley Forge was devoted to charitable uses and was held in trust for the public. The fund for distribution, he holds, cannot be distributed among its members, or the holders of certificates of stock, but must be applied in furtherance of charity. Because of this fact the Court must supply a trustee, or distribution must be made to a proper person or body who will carry into effect the intent of the donors.

The schedule for distribution shows that the expense of the audit amounts to $67.55, of which Mr. Dannewer estimates the balance in for the advertising, photostationary and stenographic fees.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

TIMELY TOPICS OF PLANTS AND PESTS DISCUSSED WEEKLY
By H. A. Surface, State Zoologist of Pennsylvania.

MAY BEETLE OR JUNE BUG AND WHITE GRUB.

One of the most common insects in Pennsylvania is the white grub or grub worm, so familiar to tillers of the soil. This transforms into a large, rounded, dark brown beetle known as the May Beetle or June Bug. In the grub stage it lives under ground feeding on the roots of plants in the mature stage it feeds by night on the leaves of various trees, bushes or shrubs.

A Dauphin county farmer sent specimens to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist of the State Department of Agriculture, at Harrisburg, saying they are eating the leaves of the trees, which are swarming full of them. They attack plum, cherry, quince, grape, peach and English walnut. If I am not quickly informed how to get rid of them they will soon clean up the orchard.

Dr. Surface replied immediately as follows:
"The beetle which you sent to us, eating the leaves in your orchard, is the June bug or May beetle. The best thing to do is to spray with one ounce of arsenate of lead in each gallon of water. The great trouble of it is that even this treatment does not kill them until after they have eaten more or less of the leaves; but you may be sure the same beetles will not come again the next night."

ARSENATE POWDER AND PASTE FOR SPRAYING.

A progressive orchardist of Pennsylvania has written to Dr. Surface, State Zoologist of the Department of Agriculture, asking to be informed as to how much arsenate of lead, in either the paste or powdered form, he should use in spraying for the following grub worms. In view of the now almost universal custom in this State to use arsenate of lead instead of Paris green and other arsenical poisons, and also the fact that this commodity is now prepared in both the paste and powdered forms, and will be used much more in the future than it has in the past, the information contained in the following reply, may prove of value to many persons.

As a half ounce of lead paste is two pounds of fifty gallons of water. One and one-half pounds of powder is equal to two pounds of the paste, yet with reasonable limits there is no such thing as the use of "too much" of either form of arsenate of lead.
"I mean to say that you can fully double the ordinary amount of two pounds in fifty gallons, making it four pounds of the paste or powder, and no harm will be done to the plants. The only objection to this is that you are using it stronger than is necessary to produce the desired results, and hence there is some loss of material."
"The paste form weighs about one-third heavier than the powdered form, on account of the water it contains. This fact can be kept in mind by persons who wish to reduce either to a similar poisoning proportion of the other, but in practical work you can use just as much of the one as of the other, remembering that when we use the powdered form, we are applying it stronger than in the paste form, and thus increasing the killing agency for those insects, like Rose bugs or Rose chafers, Grape-vine flea beetles, June bugs, Colorado potato beetles, and

GRAPE VINE FLEA BEETLE.

For an insect of Unusual Destructiveness on the Home Grape Vine in Pennsylvania This Year.

Of the scores of insects of which have received inquiry this spring they have been more numerous nor more destructive than the Grapevine flea beetle. This remark was sent me by the State Zoologist of Pennsylvania, H. A. Surface, in his letter at Harrisburg.

Dr. Surface says the Grape-vine beetle is a steel blue insect about size of the house fly, having hard wing covers, and being able to fly and fly quickly. It passes the winter in hibernation in rubbish, and comes forth in spring as a mature insect, ready to feed on the first opening of the grape. It is extremely destructive because it eats readily the young buds eating off shoots at leaves, and the young grape vines. If not sooner destroyed, it will cause the loss of many vines. It reproduces a second brood before fall.

Grape-vine flea beetle is easily controlled by spraying promptly with one ounce of arsenate of lead in each gallon of water, or about three pounds of arsenate of lead in five gallons. Thoroughness of application is important. If any remaining twenty-four hours or longer after the first spraying, it should be repeated again with the same material, which should be applied when others appear. If desired this insect poison can be applied in a hand-bottle by adding gallon and one quart of strong lime-sulfur solution, either commercial or home-made, and putting the three pounds of arsenate of lead, either dry or in paste form.

CUT WORM REMEDIES.

Time Discussion of an Important Topic.

An editor of one of the large Pennsylvania daily newspapers wrote to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Harrisburg, that one of his readers asked that to do "to prevent worms from eating tomato plants as fast as planted."

As Cut Worms are unusually abundant and destructive this spring, the reply of Prof. Surface may help many persons who are troubled with them. "You inquire that does not state what kind of worms are 'cutting his tomato plants,' nor does he describe in detail how the work is done. As it is possible for this injury to come from any one of several kinds of pests, I can not be safe in guessing which one is causing the trouble. The remedies vary with the nature of the pest. However, I presume it is done by the cutworm, which cuts off the plants at night near the surface of the ground."

"While this is one of the most seriously destructive pests throughout the State, destroying nearly all kinds of plants, it is not so common as the cutworm. The best remedy for the cut worm is known as the poison bran mash. This is made by mixing one part of Paris green with forty or fifty parts of dry bran. After it is thoroughly mixed pour over it some water to which has been added a little strong molasses. Use enough of this sweetened water to dampen it slightly."
"In the evening put a small pinch of this, such as one-fourth teaspoonful or less, at the base of each plant, or drop it along two or three feet apart in the row where the plants are set, or where they are to be planted. It can also be used in the same way in corn rows in fields to destroy the cut worms there."

"If you have a good Lancaster county farmer who last year cleaned up the cut worms in his entire corn field by mixing the dry poison bran and sowing it by hand broadcast over the surface of the ground, after the corn was planted, he replied to me that he had a good crop of corn without damage by the cut worms, while his neighbors had to replant."

"If you are afraid of fowls taking the poison bran, it can be applied by putting it under boards, or by dropping it on the soil near the plants, and putting a little loose damp earth over it."

FOR ASPARAGUS BEETLES AND "WORMS."

Asparagus beetles of two distinct species are spreading rapidly over Pennsylvania, and doing considerable injury to this delicious early vegetable. One of these is known as the Common Asparagus beetle, and is black, white and red on its back, while the other is the Twelve-spotted Asparagus beetle, being light red in color and having twelve black spots. Both feed and lay their eggs on the stalks, branches and leaves of the asparagus plant. The young are dark-colored, slimy grubs, which although very destructive if left unchecked are easily controlled by proper means.

A prominent asparagus grower of Pennsylvania sent specimens and a letter of inquiry to H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, at Harrisburg, and the latter replied as follows:
"I would adopt the following methods:

1. Cut all the asparagus low in the bed. In other words, do not leave small shoots here and there, because they are too small or weak to cut. If any shoots whatever are left, the asparagus beetle or its young will continue to feed and thrive upon them.
2. In young beds, or where shoots are really too weak to cut, spray with one ounce of arsenate of lead in each gallon of water. It might be well to add from one to three ounces of glue dissolved in hot water to each gallon of this preparation. Whale oil soap, or syrup, or glucose will also act as a "sticker" to make the arsenate of lead adhere.
3. After you quit cutting the asparagus bed this summer, prepare to spray with arsenate of lead to destroy the late broods of the asparagus beetles.
4. After the growth has ceased, or this fall after the tops of the plants die, gather these together and burn them, and thus destroy many of the insects that would hibernates in them.
5. There are two species of asparagus beetles, one of which is much brighter red in color. In this part of the State both species are to be seen upon the plants at the same time at present. Both are destroyed by the methods here mentioned."

MAKING HAY.

Cut clover hay when about half the blossoms are brown; cut timothy just as the bloom is falling. Curing clover: Cut it as soon as the dew is off in the morning. At noon shake out the bunches, rake into windrows before evening dew sets on it, and let it lie until next day. Next day shake out the hay as soon as the dew is off. You ought to be ready to haul, on a hot day, by eleven o'clock, or certainly after dinner. It spoils clover hay to set too dry. It should never be put into the barn when wet with rain or dew; but a little nap won't hurt it. Curing timothy: If the crop is not too heavy and rank, cut as soon as the dew is off, let it cure a few hours, rake into windrows, and haul in the barn the same day. If crop is rank cut in the afternoon; it will wilt some during the night and will be ready to haul by eleven o'clock, or certainly after dinner. If crop is rank cut in the afternoon; it will wilt some during the night and will be ready to haul by eleven o'clock, or certainly after dinner. Poultry manure is equal as a fertilizer to the best article of Peruvian guano, and if properly cared for under cover is worth as much as Pacific guano, which is usually worth from $40 to $50 per ton. Professor Norton, Science of Farming, says 100 pounds of fresh hen manure contains 2.25 pounds of nitrogen, 20.5 pounds of phosphoric acid and 17 pounds of potash.
